

FTI Consulting Launches RelativityOne Data Migration Services

August 19, 2019

Expanding on Long-Standing Partnership and Expertise with Relativity Solutions, Firm Formalizes Consulting for E-Discovery Migration Planning and Execution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- FTI Consulting, Inc. (NYSE: FCN) today announced that the Company's Technology segment has introduced a new set of services for RelativityOne Data Migration. FTI Technology brings deep expertise in the Relativity platform and a global suite of related services, upon which this new solution was developed. The firm's RelativityOne Data Migration Services will support law firms, corporations and government agencies in planning and managing the transfer of applications, scripts, data and workspaces from a variety of e-discovery platforms to RelativityOne.

Like many business processes, e-discovery is shifting toward cloud-based platforms as legal teams recognize the cost, efficiency, flexibility and security benefits of SaaS solutions like RelativityOne. Migrating, however, is not always straightforward and can present a range of compliance, continuity and process challenges when transferring data to the cloud. FTI Technology's RelativityOne Data Migration Services are uniquely tailored to common migration challenges, to provide clients a reliable way to quickly and cost-effectively move their e-discovery infrastructure to the cloud, at scale.

"Data migration requires a combination of expertise and technical capability and can be challenging for even the most sophisticated teams," said Daryl Teshima, a Senior Managing Director within FTI Technology. "Our new Data Migration Services are designed to help clients achieve a streamlined and accelerated move to RelativityOne and navigate any number of unexpected issues that may arise. Our team brings a breadth of technical experience across e-discovery, Relativity and data-related challenges to this offering, providing our clients with the guidance and support they need to migrate everything in a timely and cost-effective manner."

FTI Technology's RelativityOne Data Migration Services include:

- Migration planning: FTI Technology's team of experts partners with clients to tailor a transition plan specific to the existing e-discovery technology infrastructure.
- Data and workspace migration: An inventory of workspaces, document counts and file sizes is taken to determine the most efficient way to transfer and replicate for a seamless experience in RelativityOne.
- Application and script transfer: Key to an effective migration is ensuring process and workflow carryover to maintain and optimize existing efficiencies and automation.
- Post-migration evaluation: A thorough review at the conclusion of the migration confirms all key elements and datasets were successfully transferred.
- File exception identification and remediation: Proactive mitigation of process exceptions and FTI Technology's technical expertise ensure unexpected challenges are remedied quickly and migrations move toward successful completion.
- Multiplatform migration: Support is offered for migrations into RelativityOne across Relativity SQL back-up, Concordance, Summation, Ringtail, CloudNine LAW, OpenText/Reccomind, Clearwell, Caselogistix, Introspect, View Point and Exterro.

"RelativityOne Certified Partners provide a variety of e-discovery services, including meaningful solutions for customers looking to transfer their data to RelativityOne," said James Zinn, Director, Business Transformation Services at Relativity. "As a RelativityOne Silver Partner, FTI Technology has met additional criteria for experience, innovation and staff training. Along with a track record of executing a range of successful Relativity projects, their team has demonstrated strong practices for RelativityOne migration, as well as the technical acumen required to implement enhanced offerings, workflows and technologies custom-built for client needs."

FTI Technology is a veteran solution provider in global e-discovery, with award-winning consultants and services. The company is one of only four RelativityOne Silver Partners and manages RelativityOne deployments worldwide, in regions including the U.S., EMEA and South America.
