

FTI Consulting Launches Relativity and RelativityOne Offering in Europe

February 27, 2018

Expanding Partnership Helps Clients Meet Global E-Discovery Challenges

LONDON, Feb. 27, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- FTI Consulting, Inc. (NYSE:FCN) today announced the Company's Technology segment has expanded its partnership with Relativity to provide Relativity e-discovery software solutions within the United Kingdom. Relativity's cloud-based platform RelativityOne enables FTI Technology's clients, whether located in the United Kingdom, Continental Europe or globally, to quickly start a new e-discovery matter within the Relativity interface while leveraging FTI Technology's consulting and services expertise. Relativity is offered by FTI Technology, hosted in the UK, immediately.

"Since launching our Relativity partnership in August, we've delivered on matters of all types in Relativity, including multiple large regulatory investigations," said Wendy King, a Managing Director with FTI Technology in Atlanta. "By adding Relativity in Europe, we are expanding our addressable market by offering clients one more way to quickly scale and manage their global e-discovery needs."

FTI Technology differentiates its Relativity technology offering by utilising expert workflows and advanced analytics to reduce the cost and complexity of large, and often global, e-discovery matters. FTI Technology also provides its clients with an enhanced Relativity solution that leverages its own technology as well as add-ons from software partners. This is bolstered by the consulting expertise of FTI Technology professionals in the United Kingdom and across Continental Europe.

"We're excited that FTI Technology is now offering Relativity and RelativityOne in United Kingdom and Europe as part of its well-known global playbook," said Steve Couling, Vice President of International at Relativity. "Our secure and scalable Relativity platform, combined with FTI Technology's expertise in handling cross-border matters, will help organisations nimbly respond to their most critical matters."

FTI Technology is widely recognised as a leading provider of high-quality e-discovery consulting and services that span the entire discovery process. From legal holds and global data collections to legal review and production, FTI Technology consultants assist in developing policies, deploying technology and executing entire programmes as a managed service. FTI Technology experts are experienced in managing data requirements within highly regulated industries and leading discovery efforts across a wide range of matters, from large-scale, multi-jurisdictional disputes to targeted internal investigations. As part of this, FTI Technology provides clients with a choice of technology and service options to best meet their particular needs. Relativity augments other technologies offered by FTI Technology, including Ringtail® and Microsoft Office 365 Advanced eDiscovery.

"Our clients turn to us for help with a wide range of matters, and our expertise across a number of leading platforms helps us find the best tool for the client," said Tom Quinn, a Managing Director with FTI Technology in London. "By offering Relativity in the UK, we're providing our UK, European and global clients with another secure method to quickly set up a case, no matter the size, and manage it in accordance with local data privacy requirements."
