Leading Chilean Legal Services Provider to Become First Ringtail Partner in Latin America

WASHINGTON, Aug. 09, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- FTI Consulting, Inc. (NYSE: FCN) today announced a new partnership between Ringtail® and Seal Legal Forensics® — a leading legal and forensics services company in Santiago, Chile. This new partnership provides Seal Legal Forensics clients with access to the Ringtail e-discovery platform, including its award-winning analytics.

“Seal Legal Forensics is an exciting addition to our growing global partner network,” said Bill Adams, a Senior Managing Director and Head of the Ringtail business. “Combining the expertise of the Seal Legal Forensics’ team with the capabilities of the Ringtail platform can help deliver superior client services and unlock new opportunities.”

Commenting on the partnership, Alejandra Vallejos, Co-Founder of Seal Legal Forensics, said, “We are excited to add the Ringtail platform to our services portfolio. As the demands of e-discovery accelerate for Chilean organizations, we were determined to find a software platform that could deliver the latest innovations while also being easy to use and manage – Ringtail delivers on all counts.”

This partnership is made possible by the Ringtail self-serve platform, which provides partners a complete e-discovery solution. Seal Legal Forensics can now provide clients with secure case portals and deliver a wide array of visual data analytics, including conceptual clustering, complex network presentation, predictive technologies and continuous active learning.

“Seal Legal Forensics delivers cutting-edge research and analysis services that help drive down the costs of e-discovery,” added Sander van der Voorde, Co-Founder of Seal Legal Forensics. “The Ringtail platform provides us with the flexibility, performance and features to serve our clients quickly and efficiently.”

Seal Legal Forensics helps its clients minimize the costs associated with research and analysis of large amounts of information. This includes minimizing the risks associated with data breaches, document review and internal investigations. In addition, Seal Legal Forensics bundles more than 20 years of experience in the analysis of mergers and acquisitions control and have incorporated high standards of analysis of privacy, security, and discovery and information governance into the due diligence process.

The Ringtail self-serve platform helps law firms, corporations, government agencies and its growing partner network around the world tackle the complexity and scope of today’s e-discovery. Ringtail software processes and culls data, provides a broad and deep feature set for data review and coding, and empowers users with a comprehensive set of redaction and production capabilities. Ringtail is available in a hosted self-serve deployment or as an on-premises installation. Ringtail’s growing partner network also offers Ringtail as a managed services solution.

Ringtail e-discovery software has received numerous honors from the legal and IT industries, including selection by The National Law Journal, The Legal Intelligencer, The Recorder and KMWorld, as a leader in e-discovery software.
