WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan 14, 2010 /PRNewswire via COMTEX/ -- FTI Consulting, Inc. (NYSE: FCN), the global business advisory firm dedicated to helping organizations protect and enhance their enterprise value, announced that its Ringtail Legal software has been selected for a silver award by Law Technology News readers in the category of case management software for large law firms.

"We congratulate the 2009 LTN Award winners, and applaud their creativity and innovations," said Monica Bay, editor-in-chief of Law Technology News. "The awards dramatically illustrate how our community is determined to develop and adopt superb technologies that help legal organizations deliver better, faster, and cheaper legal services in these turbulent economic times."

In 2009, the editors of Law Technology News asked the publication's more than 40,000 subscribers to identify products and vendors that represented outstanding achievement in legal technology in 25 categories for its seventh annual awards program. The awards, selected based on subscriber online voting, will be presented at LegalTech New York on February 1, 2010. Information on the awards and winners will be featured in the March 2010 issue of Law Technology News and on the magazine's Web site at www.lawtechnologynews.com.

The Ringtail software recognized by Law Technology News readers integrates two market-leading and award-winning applications to deliver a single e-discovery platform, combining the visual analysis and rapid review capabilities of Attenex(R) with the enterprise-class case management, redaction and production features of Ringtail Legal. This single solution, available both on-premise and on-demand, provides significant advancements in the speed, flexibility and cost-effectiveness of e-discovery and document review. "Corporations and their law firms select Ringtail for e-discovery because of its unmatched power, efficiency, and flexibility throughout the litigation lifecycle," said E d Pfromer, senior managing director of FTI Technology. "As legal teams continue to implement more cost-effective e-discovery processes and technology, we're extremely pleased to be recognized by the experienced Law Technology News readership."
